

Peaceful demonstration to protest China's brutal campaigns

Today, we are here for a peaceful demonstration to protest China's brutal campaign of colonization, genocide, and occupation in East Turkistan, which is called "Xinjiang" by Chinese government.

We came here to call on the international community to formally recognize China's atrocities in East Turkistan as a GENOCIDE, and we also call on the UN and the international community to recognize East Turkistan as an Occupied Country. We urge governments across the world to take actions and help free East Turkistan and its people.
